

WAR PREPARATIONS AT WASHINGTON ARE BEING RUSHED BY GOVERNMENT

Great Haste and Secrecy in Preparation by Officials of the War Department

American Investments in Mexico Have Reached a Staggering Sum--Rumor That Germany or Japan is Supporting Mexican Rebellion is Considered Absurd.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS REGARDING BIG "WAR GAME."

Two hundred rounds of ball ammunition issued per man. All leaves of absence indefinitely suspended. Unprecedented haste and secrecy in preparing for "maneuvers."

No congressional appropriation for "maneuvers" available. Quartermaster and commissary officers ordered to buy supplies without time limit.

Sudden return of Mexican ambassador to Washington from New York.

Coast artillery drawn upon to reinforce infantry regiments and units for sea duty ordered into commission.

President Diaz reported to be in serious physical condition, with death imminent.

Persistent reports that England and Germany have suggested American intervention in Mexico as a revolution.

American interests in Mexico now amount to $1,500,000,000.

Washington, March 8.—Not since the days preceding the Spanish war has official Washington been so stirred as it is today by the sudden mobilization of one-fourth of the standing army on the Mexican border.

The official statement of yesterday that the vast movement of troops was merely for the purpose of holding maneuvers was practically forgotten today in view of the reported imminent death of President Diaz and the insistent threats of European countries that they will interfere unless the United States proves its ability to handle the situation.

Army men laughed up their sleeves at the official explanation. In all history no maneuver was ever ordered in such haste or in such manner, they say.

"To a man who understands army orders, it is apparent that these troops are being moved for business purposes," declared an army officer today.

It was pointed out that if the troops were going south for maneuvers only, it would not be necessary for them to carry 200 rounds of ball ammunition, as ordered. Bullets are not used in sham battles.

A representative of the United Press asked Secretary of War Dickinson how long the maneuvers had been planned, but the secretary evaded the question by replying:

"That would be saying how long General Wood might have been working on it."

General Wood himself admitted that practically no plans had been made for the extensive war game, parrying all questions as to how long he had been considering the maneuvers. "General Carter will work out his own war game; we will leave that to him," said Wood.

The high tension of anticipation was apparent in army hats and marine circles, all of which reflected in intensified form the general interest of the public.

The excitement among the wives and families of officers suddenly ordered to the front was one of the most marked indications of the seriousness of the situation.

Much comment was caused here by the sudden return of Mexican Minister De la Barra yesterday afternoon from New York, after he had gone there to meet Minister of Finance Limantour, who arrived from Paris last night. A summons so important as to force him to leave New York a few hours before Limantour arrived, is taken as a connecting link in the sudden developments of the situation.

As an evidence of the serious view of the situation taken here, the Washington Post today in two column feature display on its first page gives a chronological record of the events leading up to the war with Spain, introducing it as follows:

"The dispatch of warships and 20,000 troops to the border between Mexico and the United States, where an insurrection, accompanied in bloodshed has existed for several months, for the purpose of maneuvers, according to the White House statement, recalls the tragedy of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor in 1898."

Appropriations for the joint maneuvers are almost always specifically made by congress, but at the present time there is practically not a

SUGGESTION FOR PERMANENT HOME FOR OLD CURIOS

A very good suggestion has been made to the Advocate with reference to the establishment of a permanent home for many of the interesting relics now on exhibit at the loan exhibition. Along this line is certain that a number of these white of interest and value to the owners of the present generation, would in time be consigned to obscure places and might even find their final resting place on a junk heap.

It would be a good plan for the club women who have taken the exhibit in hand to hold an informal conference, looking toward securing a room in the court house, Memorial hall, Y. M. C. A. or other public building where these relics with their history could be placed for the benefit of students and those who from time to time might wish to secure data on information.

When a permanent public library is established the hope of every one, these relics could be finally deposited in a permanent curio room.

It might be well to take this matter up with the owners of these exhibits and some may be willing to donate them for this purpose.

BALLINGER'S SUCCESSOR SUITS PINCHOT

New York, March 8.—When Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States, whose charges against the Ballinger administration led to his resignation, was seen here last night, there was no mistaking the satisfaction with which he regarded the news of Secretary Ballinger's resignation.

Mr. Ballinger's resignation was inevitable, he said, and will be received with general satisfaction. It is a welcome concession to the growing determination of the country to be represented by public servants in whose hands the public interests are safe.

"The appointment of Walter Fisher is admirable. I speak with confidence, for we have been working together for years."

BALLINGER QUILTS TAFT CABINET AND CHICAGO MAN SUCCEEDS HIM

WALTER L. FISHER.

RICHARD A. BALLINGER.

Richard A. Ballinger's resignation as Secretary of the Interior, dated January 19 last, was accepted Tuesday by President Taft, and Walter L. Fisher, of Chicago, was appointed as his successor, his commission being signed immediately by the President. Fisher will take office this week.

Ballinger based his resignation entirely upon the condition of his health. The President replied at once, expressing his confidence in Secretary Ballinger, his reluctance to accept his resignation, and requested the Secretary to remain in office until the close of the session of Congress.

Fisher was secretary of the Municipal Voters' League of Chicago, a political reform organization. He is a friend of Gifford Pinchot and a conservationist.

FARMERS DRAW COLOR LINE

CANADA'S PRIME MINISTER FAVORS RECIPROCITY AND SCOUTS AT ANNEXATION

Ottawa, March 8.—The reciprocity agreement was endorsed, loyalty to Great Britain affirmed, annexation scouted, the development of Canada proclaimed and friendship between farmer and manufacturer recommended to Canada in the house of commons by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, prime minister of the dominion, in the first speech which he has delivered in the reciprocity debate. His views against annexation, and for good relations between Canada and the United States were especially emphasized.

"It was once the conviction of every American president," he asserted, "that Canada should become a part of the United States. Although it was flattering, he said, to American pride that the territory of the republic should extend over the whole continent, he urged that his neighbors should remember that Canadians were born under the same flag as the ancestors of the American people, a flag under which Americans may have suffered oppression, but not

"If you have founded a nation upon separation from Britain," he said, "remember that we Canadians have set our hearts upon building a nation without separation, and in this task we are far advanced. The blood which flows in our veins is as good as yours and if you are a proud people, though we have not your numbers, we are as proud as you, and rather than part with our national existence we would part with our lives."

The prime minister's speech is regarded in political circles as the most important utterance on the subject that has been made on the Canadian side of the line. The interest with which it was awaited was shown by crowded galleries, and by Canadians who were unable to gain admission.

The premier's remarks were repeated with approving demonstration by the opposition.

POLE WAS HONESTLY REACHED

Cook Denounces Peary During Columbus Lecture

CHARGES CONSPIRACY

And Accuses Rival of Theft and Corruption—Audience Enthusiastic.

Columbus, March 8.—"A clear trail of bribery and conspiracy leads to the very door of Peary. I am ready to back this statement with legal proof with my money and with my fists if necessary. I am absolutely certain of winning out. The boreal center has been honestly reached and I want the credit for it. I don't want any money and I don't want any medals. I fought for the pole in the far North and I am going to fight for recognition to the end of my days."

Concluding thus a lecture before 200 people at the Southern Theatre last night, Dr. Frederick Cook buried denunciations at Commander Peary, accusing him of theft and of corruption in order to question the Cook exploits both at the pole and in Alaska.

This much was in public. Later, across a table and among friends, Dr. Cook stated that he had never uttered or written a word that was intended to discredit any of his earlier claims that he had reached the pole.

"I have been denouncing Mr. Peary from the public platform for more than 30 days," he said, "and if what I say were not the truth he would have a most excellent chance to sue me for damages or even clap me in jail. We would welcome such a reply, as I want nothing better than to get a chance to prove my case in court before a jury."

Regarding his disappearance, Dr. Cook said: "I was merely taking a badly needed rest without taking the newspapers into my confidence. With the exception of the report that I was in Chili, none of the printed reports was correct. I had my wife and family with me all the time."

According to Dr. Cook, Peary seized the Cook supplies that were worth to him $25,000, although they had not cost that much, and in addition $10,000 worth of furs and ivory. He says that the very walrus tusk which Peary afterwards sent to Roosevelt, and which Roosevelt still has and displays, was one stolen from Rudolph Franka, Cook's companion on the lower reaches of the trip to the pole.

In his lectures, which followed in a general way the lines of his discourse at Memorial Hall a little more than a year ago, but which was much more coherent and carefully thought out, Dr. Cook characterized the National Geographic Society as being neither national nor geographical, and cited the fact that five of the leading arctic explorers were his friends and supporters.

He said not one line of his printed record had been successfully challenged after 18 months. The authorities at Washington don't dare show the proof upon which they had predicated the authenticity of the Peary claims, he declared.

"I tried to treat Mr. Peary like a gentleman, until I found him a pole cat," said Dr. Cook, "then I gave him more room."

Dr. Cook's audience became quite enthusiastic and warmly applauded the lecturer's statement that he intended to fight for his rights.

Sore Throat Not a Trifling Ailment
Almost every one has had sore throat. It will have it again. It is one of our most common ailments and, because it, in itself, is not fatal, is too often looked upon as a small matter, requiring little or no attention.

On the contrary it is a very serious affection because every person with Sore Throat is in danger of tonsillitis, Quinsy, or Diphtheria and other serious maladies. In fact these diseases are almost invariably preceded by Sore Throat.

The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through the throat, and if that is diseased infection may be carried to every part of the system. To cure a Sore Throat often means to prevent Diphtheria or one of the other more serious throat diseases. Curing Sore Throat is TONSILINE'S special mission. It is made for that purpose. TONSILINE is the one and only Sore Throat cure which is sold over a large part of the United States. TONSILINE is so well and so skillfully prepared as a Sore Throat cure that the first dose gives decided relief, and a very few doses cure.

Remember—Sore throat is Nature's danger signal. Keep TONSILINE in the house and be on the safe side of Sore Throat. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

BAD ROADS WASTE MONEY

The average cost of hauling over country roads in the United States is about 26 cents per ton per mile. In Germany, France and England it is about 19 cents. About one mile in twelve of our roads is covered with macadam, gravel or other durable material. Nearly all roads in the three European countries named are surfaced with broken stone, hence the difference in cost. Reducing our ton-mile cost one-half would save us $250,000,000 per year, or three times what we now spend annually for road "improvement." It costs 35 cents per bushel to ship wheat 3,100 miles from New York to Liverpool. It costs an average of 5.5 cents to haul a bushel 94 miles (the average haul) to the railway. Bad roads waste money. Bad administration not only makes bad roads but wastes most of the money we pay for making bad road good.

TWO MILLION ARE STARVING

Rufus Wilson, secretary of the China Relief committee of the Seattle, Wash. Commercial club, writes to the Advocate regarding the work now being done for the relief of the famine sufferers in China. Mr. Wilson says: "Nearly two million people are starving and will need aid for many months. Those on the ground say that $2 contributed now will save the life of some man, woman or child."

"These making donations may rest assured that their gifts will be used in the most effective and economical way. Moreover, aside from the humanitarian phase of this work, it is bound to have most important results in opening new markets in the Orient for the products of the United States."

WHY THEY FAIL

Most Effic Remedies Miss the Cause of Piles.

Disagreeable treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to cure piles, and "putting them off won't remove the cause. The treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside cause. The appropriate doctor now uses internal medicine, to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Road, the first and only guaranteed internal pile cure—in the form of tablets—cures all kinds of piles. Sold by W. A. Erwin & Son, and druggists everywhere. $1.00 for large box. Dr. Leonhardt, Co., Station B Buffalo, N. Y.

Heart and Home Talks by Barbara Boyd

Economy and Dress.

The Economical Hat to Buy.

A SUCCESSFUL woman milliner was talking about hats to an intimate woman friend. This milliner knows her business. She began as a young girl in the workroom of her father's establishment and learned the business step by step from the bottom to the top. When her father died she took charge of the establishment and is making good, overwhelmingly. But though she sells French hats by the half dozen at fabulous prices to many a fashionable customer, she is herself a practical little soul, and knows how to get the worth of every penny she spends for her own dress. She has the art of dressing smartly and economically down to a fine point.

In discussing economy in hats, she said:

"The best hat for practical, everyday wear is one of the natural color straw trimmed with a good quality of velvet ribbon, preferably black. Now I know that will not sound very appealing to some people. But such a hat can be made wondrously smart. And it will give better wear than any other kind that can be chosen.

"Natural color straw stands wear. The air makes a white hat yellow. A blue straw fades badly unless it is of silk braid. So also do the fancy colors. But natural straw stands sun and weather and wears better than any other kind.

"If the natural color isn't becoming, the hat can be faced in any color desired and trimmed in the same color. This will bring it in harmony with the suit if this is wished. I advise black velvet simply because colors fade in ribbons as well as in straw. Then, too, the natural color straw trimming with black velvet looks well with either tailored suit or a simple silk dress. It is smart for traveling and it fits into all-round practical needs better than any other hat.

"A cabochon or ornament of straw can replace the velvet ribbon if desired, but I would limit choice of trimming to these two, that is if you want to get the most wear for your money. Now that the Audubon Society will not allow the use of the natural wings and breasts, the feather trimmings that are made are apt to blow out. They do not give such satisfactory wear as straw or velvet trimmings. Aligrettes break.

"And I advise velvet ribbon, and a good quality, too, because it can be used over and over, because it gives an air of refinement and also holds its own better against weather and wear. Silk ribbon falls down. If wired, when it gets damp the wiring sticks out unpleasantly. Fancy ribbons soil, and grow tiresome in the bargain. Black velvet ribbon is decidedly the best trimming from the economical point of view for the practical hat.

"If only one hat can be bought for the season, then I would advise a black hat. It fits in better for both dressy and practical wear. It is not an easy matter to find one hat that will suit all occasions. But the black hat comes nearest to doing so."

Recipes for March 9, 1911.

Doughnuts. A reliable recipe calls for one egg beaten with a half cupful of sugar, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of grated nutmeg and cinnamon mixed, a half cupful of milk, one cupful of flour, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder and enough more flour to just roll out. Cut and fry in deep, smoking hot fat.

Rice Pudding. For each quart of milk used allow one tablespoonful of washed rice, two tablespoonfuls of sugar (more if liked quite sweet), one teaspoonful of butter and a third of a teaspoonful of salt. When all ingredients are in the baking dish add either a little grated nutmeg or a teaspoonful of vanilla and place in a slow oven. When a brown skin forms over the top turn it under a couple of times then stir carefully without disturbing the top. Allow two hours or more for the baking until the rice is well swollen and about half of the liquid absorbed or evaporated. Then set aside and serve very cold.

Bath Tub Cleanliness.

Whether the bath tub be made of porcelain, enamel, iron or zinc, it should be kept bright and smooth. A solution of Gold Dust washing powder and warm water will quickly remove any vestige of dirt and if any rough places or dark spots appear, these can be easily removed by sprinkling a little of the Gold Dust powder on a cloth and rubbing briskly. The water basin and water closets may be kept perfectly white if thoroughly washed with Gold Dust once a week. The use of Gold Dust washing powder is a protection against disease and odors. It cleans the drain pipes thoroughly.

OFFICIALS ARE MUM.

Washington, March 8.—Late today Gen. Wood, President Taft and other officials positively refused to discuss any angle of the maneuver order. The fact that their original explanation is very generally not believed causes no comment from them.

New Raglan Raincoat.

A raincoat is an absolute necessity to the woman who must go out every day, wet or shine, and the new raglan-shaped raincoats are not only very comfortable but they are smart and trim as well.

A light yellow tan color is most fashionable in these coats just now and this color is much more agreeable on a gloomy day than a colorless gray that is as dismal as the weather.

Protected by such a coat the frock of light serge or mohair will be unharmed.

Orpheum.

Gus Sun's peerless minstrels are scoring a hit at the Arcade theatre. A real minstrel show, full of singing and music. Tom Powell, the principal comedian, is a star, and Happy Golden, his brother comedian, is doing his share of the fun making.

Sun's Sunny Songsters is a clever singing act. The Majestic Trio is another high class singing and musical act. The Orpheoscope has two pretty films.

FIRE LADDIES CUT DOWN DEAD PIGEON

Poor little dead pigeon. What a world of pathos surrounds its death. For a brief space of time its life was all sunshine and happiness. But unfortunately it became entangled in the meshes and met an untimely death. Its poor little body hung suspended all day Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning, until Earl Vandegrift, of the Central fire department, made his way to the roof of the Wehrle block and succeeded in cutting the body of the pigeon loose. The mate of the dead pigeon has been in mourning ever since the accident occurred. Wednesday morning another pigeon became entangled in some string, but finally succeeded in extricating itself.

Zanesville Should Follow Newark Plan For the Graduation

The controversy still wages warmly at Zanesville between the girl members of this year's graduating class and the members of the board of education on the question of using caps and gowns this year in place of the fussy graduation dress of old. There has been much comment pro and con and some newspaper controversy.

Tuesday a meeting of the class members was held and the girls decided to agree on not expending of only a certain amount on an outfit, hoping by the reduction of the vest to be outlaid for a graduation outfit to induce the board members to give up the caps and gowns. The amount agreed upon to be expended was $40 and this way it is itemized: White dress, $15 to $20; hat, $7 to $10; shoes, $3; three roses, 75 cents; ties, $4.

The dress worn at commencement first at the state the baccalaureate following the graduation exercise.

The girls, however, may not be successful with the board even then for Dr. Bateman, who introduced the caps and gowns says he will not rescind his stand.

The caps and gowns have been worn at the best and the graduation dress stipulated by the board members is now put by the girls in their reception who cannot afford to be spared the expense of being improperly gowned on her graduation day.

AN EASY AND HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially gray hair and scalp itching, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Welch Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of order.

For sale and recommended by F. D. Hall, druggist.

ORIENTAL ROOM AT LOAN EXHIBIT

The Oriental room, the southwest one is of greatest interest and aside from the things truly oriental, there is a varied display of Mexican and Indian curios. The Mexican serape or blanket of rain-bow hues and the Navajo rug, along with many made by various Indian tribes for their use in carrying burdens, cooking, etc. Folk-lore and prayers tell their stories and desires in the ornamentation of baskets and required months of toil for the stitches in some are so close that as many as one hundred and ten can be counted to the square inch. The loom came into use longer ago than we can tell, the Assyrians and Egyptians used their skill in making hangings and floor coverings which gave brilliancy to their religious ceremonies and with the victories of Alexander the Great, they were carried into all the then known world.

What infinite patience must the workers in Benares brass possess, in the Loan there is a huge tray of table top, several small trays, also jardiniere, bottles and vases, all of them fine examples.

Look around in this room of Oriental things and take note of the number of heathen gods and idols, the group of the mure gods of Confucius is carved in jade, then there is a single idol in the same stone.

A carved wood tobacco jar, a powder and snuff box and a watch stand deserve more than a passing glance for the carving is of seventeenth century style and the watch stand was a convenience of an early day.

Elephants—Seek diligently and you will find them, though they do not rise to heights that will block the horizon—they are cunning little ones carved out of ivory and ebony and to acquire one elephant is to acquire a wish for another, two elephants do not long satisfy and the third is added perhaps a plank full. If you will delve in the history of Siam you will find that its religion makes the elephant sacred, in Ceylon, the elephant furnished another story and in Hindustan still another. A gift to Queen Victoria exhibited at St. Louis among the public presents was a group of elephants presented by native Indian princes.

Ivory requires great care in this climate. "Meet me at the Loan."

AMUSEMENTS

CUTTER STOCK CO.

The Cutter Stock company pleased an audience which braved the inclement weather on Tuesday evening and repaid any inconvenience encountered by the worth of the performance they gave. "The Cowboy Sheriff" was the bill and while it is a melodrama, it carried an appealing little story and a few of the members of the company survived the many perils of which it tells.

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL
—Poet, critic and diplomat. Born Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 22, 1819; died there Aug. 12, 1891. Graduated from Harvard and succeeded Loufellow there as professor of modern languages, which place he held for twenty-two years. Was editor of the Atlantic Monthly for five years and of the North American Review for nine. He was minister to Spain from 1877 to 1880 and to England from 1880 to 1885. Was brilliant as a conversationalist, poet, prose writer, critic and lecturer. His best known poems are "The Bivouac Poets," "Commemoration Ode" and "A Vision of Sir Launfal." Many rank Lowell as America's greatest patriotic poet, and he is generally regarded as our foremost critic. In the field of diplomacy he started the vogue of the American embassy in London.

The Michigan Democratic convention has endorsed the reciprocity agreement. Michigan is on the border, and Detroit at least knows what the benefits of free trade with the Dominion would mean. The Democrats of the State have as much at stake as the Republicans have, and they are not afraid of Canadian competition. Almost without exception, the border communities are in favor of reciprocity.

After a long series of experiments the Agricultural Department at Washington has come to the conclusion that cheese is a most wholesome article. It is even the loudest smelling cheese is not made an exception. In the season of coming spring, laden with its perfumes, why may not our poets intone a sonnet or two upon the odoriferous virtues of cheese?

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

I called upon the grocery man, and asked him for a gallon can of syrup, and he cried: "Too bad! We've just sold out the last we had! But we have something just as good; this preserves of ours, and we've stood the fiercest tests you ever saw, and scientists lay down the law that our oil's in a class apart; it tones the liver and the heart; it fills you full of rich, red blood, and makes your hair and whiskers bud. So throw your syrup jug away, and buy some preserves today. I smote that merchant with his scales, and soaked him with a keg of mauls, and lashed him furiously with my lyre, and set the one-eyed store alive. I called it upon the druggist then, and wished to buy a fountain pen. 'I do not keep such things,' he said; 'the trade in fountain pens is dead, as they seldom serve you as they should, and I have something just as good. Now, I've a squiggling lever, my friend, that I can safely recommend. The London Lancet rightly claims there are no better, safer games than squiggling water from a gun.' I reached across and poked him one. 'Is there no merchant in this land,' I said, 'such goods are not on hand; there is none in this neighborhood, and there is nothing just as good?'

A mining engineer who has had opportunities of studying the coal resources of the Pacific coast assures us that Alaska has quantities of excellent smokeless coal. We suggest that the information be communicated to the Navy Department, which would not have spent very large sums of money in transporting Eastern coal to San Francisco and Bremerton if it had known about this excellent Alaska coal.

Philadelphia Record: There is a singular inconsistency of public opinion with reference to the regulation of the liquor traffic. Sixteen of the "dry" counties in Indiana have voted to re-establish the license system. No doubt this is largely due to the failure of prohibition to prohibit.

Senator Bailey of Texas, gave a fine demonstration of his incapacity for leadership in showing at the close of the session how incapable he is of mastering himself. Since the King of France with twenty thousand men marched up the hill and then—marched down again! there has been no finer exhibition of spinto-folly than the Bailey resign and recall.

In the matter of unparalleled extravagance the Sixty-first Congress did not fail. At the long session it appropriated the gross sum of $1,039,163,000; at the short session just ended $1,000,952,949—a total of $2,040,115,949. This exceeds by $20,000,000 all previous records of extravagance.

(Coshooton Times.)

Of all the work in his department Attorney General Hogan has been most active on doing the things that will benefit the people most. There is a multiplicity of duties placed upon the attorney general by the statutes, and he could work assiduously during his whole term on detail subjects and office routine and still not accomplish very much for the people, but Attorney General Hogan is not that kind of

NEWARK WILL HAVE SIX WARDS

The city of Newark will be redivided into six wards and precincts before the next primaries. This will be imperative from the result of the last census, showing that Newark has over 25,000 inhabitants and will have to vote in six wards, instead of four, as heretofore.

GAS ORDINANCE NOT YET SIGNED

Both sides in the pending contest which now seems inevitable between the city and the Natural Gas company, are resting on their arms and nothing has been done in the matter. That the company will notify the council formally of their decision not to accept the provisions of the ordinance there is no doubt. The mayor has the ordinance under advisement, but has not yet decided whether to veto or approve it, and has ten days from its passage to do one or the other.

BOYS' BIBLE CLASS AT "Y."
The boys' bible class at the Y. M. C. A. roomed up its regular weekly meeting last night in the association building. The hall of lore was bean soup and it would have done your heart good to have seen 35 hearty boys seated around the room, having the time of their lives. As everybody knows, this class is under the instruction of Prot. Cromer and he had for his subject last night "The Life of Christ," and his talk was very forceful and instructive. He divided his address into five departments, industry, perseverance, truthfulness, honesty, courage. The five great ways to a bright, and told each boy that if he could live a life that was full of these five great ways, that he would be of some use in this world. He would be a great man, maybe, great as Garfield. This class meets every Tuesday night promptly at 7 and supper is served to each boy. Every boy of Newark is invited to these meetings. Come out and see something that is worth while, full of fare for next week will be soups, mashed potatoes, rolls and coffee.

MAN'S MYRIAD ANIMAL HELPERS

BY BENJAMIN KARR.

ASK the average man what animal helper in the industries of mankind or what animal contributor to his needs is most numerous, and the chances are that he will begin to consider the relative numbers of cattle, swine and sheep in the world. He will probably be put aside as too costly and too big to compare in numbers with such animals as sheep. After a little reflection the man trying to make up his mind about this question will perhaps think of the egg crop and the hen. If he does he will quite certainly choose the barnyard fowl as the most numerous living creature that works for man and is under his control. And in that choice he will be wrong.

It is true that the billions of poultry in the world completely swamp the horses, the cattle, the hogs and the sheep in numbers. In the United States there are more barnyard fowl than the horses, cattle, swine and sheep all taken together. The dogs can be added without bringing the total up near the feathered hosts of the farmyards and the more elaborate poultry "runs" of specialists.

But the most enormous multitudes of living helpers of man in supplying his wants are much smaller creatures than these. They are the silkworms and the bees. It is impossible to compare with precision these two myriads in reckoning which billions are as millions and millions no more than thousands, because the silk industry of several countries, especially China, is not covered by accurate statistics of any kind, and still less is known about the bees and the honey crop of very extensive regions.

But it is certain that the honey bees are much the more numerous, and they are an enormous multitude compared with which even the domestic fowls of all countries seem few and in mere numbers insignificant. One country like the United States has more bees in hives and belonging to men who own them just as much as they own their cows or their dogs.

Can the total of all the feathered and fur-footed creatures possessed by all the nations of the earth.

A fairly strong swarm or colony of bees numbers from 20,000 up to 40,000 or more. The average is probably not less than 30,000 in the United States. The honey yield from a hive or colony of bees will not average more than fifty or sixty pounds in a good season, though exceptional cases run far above that limit. The honey crop of the country is about 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 pounds a year.

The number of swarms or colonies of bees, which was reported at about 700,000 thirty years ago, must be not less than 1,500,000 now. It may be greater.

If there are 1,200,000 swarms of bees, which average 30,000 bees to the hive, the total number in the United States is about 36,000,000,000. The number of horses, cattle, swine, sheep, goats, donkeys, mules, camels, buffaloes, reindeer, elephants and all other large animals domesticated in the service of man, is less than 2,000,000,000 in all the countries of the earth.

Taking the world instead of the United States as the field of the honey bees, they must number hundreds of billions. Several countries have many more of those wonderful little workers than America, in proportion to the area and population.

Such figures dwarf all statistics of the animal helpers of man that we are accustomed to think of as his assistants recruited from the lower orders of life. There is no rival for the honey bee in point of numbers enlisted in the service of human masters or owners, not even the silkworm.

The myriads of birds beyond counting that aid him in producing his crops by destroying injurious insects, grubs and the like, are not domesticated or held in his possession. They do man valuable service, but they do not work for him, and they are not under his control. He cannot sell them or take them with him if he changes his residence.

It is the same with the uncounted billions of fishes that furnish much human food. They are wild creatures and they are not individual property, except in comparatively few instances, until they are caught and killed.

Wild birds and fishes cannot fairly be compared with poultry, but that is entirely reasonable in the case of bees and also silkworms.

MICHAEL SACHS TELLS OF TRIP TO THE TROPICS

First Visited Havana and Witnessed Work of Government in Attempt to Raise the Maine—Takes in Sights of Jamaica Leaving There for Colon to Inspect Work on Uncle Sam's Big Waterway, the Panama Canal.

Mr. Michael Sachs, who with his wife, has returned from a tropical sojourn of a month, gave an interesting account of his trip to an Advocate reporter.

"We left New York on February 1st on the steamer Altai of the Hamburg-American line for a trip to the tropics, being members of a party of thirty passengers. After a run of four days and a half, with fine weather, we arrived in Havana harbor on the morning of the 6th, and cast anchor close most striking scenes was a row of orchids in bloom, and roses of luxuriant fragrance and profusion selling for 25 cents for three dozen.

"After a two days' stay we went to Colon, on the isthmus, to get our first view of the great Panama canal. The first afternoon we went to see the Gatun locks, three in number, of solid concrete, each 1,000 feet long. The first two are almost completed, and work on the third is progressing rapidly. The first stands 90 feet high, to the ill-fated Maine. While waiting for the medical officer to give us clean bills of health, we watched the operations of scores of men, who were at work constructing the huge coffer-dam, which is one of the preparatory necessities in the work of raising the wreck of the battleship.

"This coffer-dam extends from the surface of the water down 70 feet through the water and mud of the harbor's bottom until the hard pan is reached upon which the bottom of the coffer-dam is situated. The only thing to be seen above the water at this time was the foremast with its fighting top. The scene was indeed one which struck us Americans with a peculiar pathos which is indescribable.

"Havana is a very pretty city, and since the first American intervention is kept in a very sanitary condition. The new part of the city called Vedado, is the residence section, and here live the wealthier class of citizens in magnificent homes that would be a credit to any of the fashionable streets of the large cities of the United States.

"The Cubans as a rule, are a set of grafters from the president down to the humblest operator of a 'bum boat' in the harbor.

"This being the winter season it would be surprising to the people of the north, and was to us, to see the women of Havana in linen dresses, heavy coats and winter hats, for the temperature was about 100 degrees to us Americans. However, the fashion has to be lived up to there, the same as any place else, regardless of the comforts of its devotees.

"Morro Castle and Cabanas fortress come in for their share of interest. The boats do not dock here, and all cargoes have to be transferred to shore in lighters, the revenue from a heavy tax on this transfer going to the government.

"After a visit of two days we went to Kingston, Jamaica, and one of the scenes that struck us is best described by the photograph accompanying this article, showing the natives going to market. Some of those shown have walked a distance of 30 miles, barefoot, carrying these large baskets on their heads.

"The Queen's and Prince's markets are scenes of activity from sunrise till noon, and here a person can buy the finest oranges, tangerines and bananas for three pence per dozen, which is equivalent to six cents in our money.

"Since the earthquake of four years ago, the city is being rebuilt, the principal material used being re-enforced concrete, which gives it a solidity that it would seem could not be shaken even by a seismic disturbance.

"The native women, by the mixed great names just as they are, as the natives were after the earthquake.

"After 20 years the British crown, and we sold again.

"We also went to the gardens, and here saw some of our Newark people.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Man and The Wolf

WILL JONES

He Saw Two Big Shining Eyes

"CHILDREN," began daddy, "this is the story of a man who had a strange, strange adventure one day, or rather, one night, with a wolf. It is a true story, and it happened in this country about a hundred years ago."

"The man lived in the backwoods far away from any town or village. His business was that of a trapper and hunter—that is, he used to go out into the woods and on the mountains to kill animals for their flesh and for their furs. Of course he was a strong and brave man, like all of the trappers. In fair weather or in bad weather he roamed over the woods, setting his traps and keeping his eye out for the animals which he hunted. Sometimes it was the other way around, and the animals hunted him instead of being hunted by him. He had many interesting adventures, but probably the strangest was the one I am going to tell you."

"It happened in winter when the ground was covered with snow and traveling was difficult. The weather was cold, and one night, as if to make things still more uncomfortable, a cold rain began falling. What was still worse, the man lost his way on the mountain and could not find the path which took him to his cabin. So he had to seek another shelter."

"When he was almost frozen and tired out with walking he happened to think of a cave which was on the mountain which he was climbing. 'I shall go there,' he said to himself, and hid shelter until the morning."

"So through the rain and wind he found his way to the cave. It was not a large cave, only a hole in the side of the mountain. When the man found it he was so glad that he did not stop to look inside, but went in quickly. And what do you suppose he found in there?"

"An Indian," said Jack, "a little lost sheep," said Evelyn.

"You are both wrong," said daddy, smiling. "It was a great big wolf. The man knew it was a wolf by his shining green eyes, but it was so dark in the cave that he could not see the rest of the wolf's body. The wolf had been caught in the storm and had sought shelter in the little cave. The animal was frightened and lay quite still, only breathing heavily. Then the man believed that he had nothing to fear from the wolf, for he thought that the wolf would not try to harm him in the night. So he lay down beside the animal, close to its wet, warm fur, and thus the two passed the night, warming each other and neither trying to harm the other."

"When the morning came the wolf rose and walked out of the cave without looking at the man, and the man went on his way to his home."

"The man knew it was a wolf by his shining green eyes, but it was so dark in the cave that he could not see the rest of the wolf's body. The wolf had been caught in the storm and had sought shelter in the little cave. The animal was frightened and lay quite still, only breathing heavily. Fish refuse, granulated to resemble codroe, is being tried out in France as bait for sardines, which rise to be caught in nets as the roe is spread upon the water.

WORKING WOMEN

You know just how it is yourself—when you are tired out, perhaps a little run-down, and hardly able to drag around, life is a burden, you are irritable, nervous, depressed and every little task seems like a mountain.

Miss Katharine Burns of Newton, Mass., says: "About six months ago I was in a run-down condition and my blood was very poor. I had taken several medicines prescribed by physicians, but they seemed to do me no good. Finally Vinol was recommended and from the first bottle I noticed a great improvement. I have taken six bottles and I feel as well as ever, and I would recommend Vinol to anybody needing a good tonic to build them up and make them strong." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

We want to ask every woman who finds herself in this condition to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not help them.

We know Vinol will create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure, rich blood, and in this way build up and strengthen the run-down, overworked, nervous system. You take no chances. Try it. F. D. Hall, druggist, Newark.

Mrs. J. D. Holcomb spent a few days last week with her steward, Mr. McNaughton and family, near Reynoldsburg.

The people living on Mink street had another mad dog scare Sunday. The canine was dispatched before any one was bitten.

Miss Nettie Wilson has returned home from a two weeks' stay with relatives in Columbus.

Ed. Simmons shipped his household goods to Michigan, where the family will move at once.

Still a few on the sick list. This place came near having a conflagration Saturday evening about 9 o'clock, when John Statts' residence on Cleveland street was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was given and the fire fighters soon had the fire out, with only a small loss. It is supposed that the fire started from a spark from the flue, as the fire was on the roof only a short distance from the flue. A few pails of water extinguished the blaze.

Mrs. Wm. Greenwood has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Grace Freeman and family at Galena, O.

Supt. R. S. Johnston and family spent Friday and Saturday with relatives at Brownsville.

TAX LIMIT BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Columbus, March 8.—The house of representatives yesterday passed the Smith 1 percent tax levy limit bill, which displaces the 1 1/2 percent measure passed last year and which has not yet been put into effect. Under the new bill the amount of taxes is limited to the sum raised in 1909 and the 1 percent levy can only be exceeded by vote of the people at a regular election.

The senate yesterday passed the Green nine-hour working day bill for women. It had been introduced as an eight-hour measure, but was amended.

Both bills are only half laws, as the senate is yet to act on the tax bill and the house on the Green measure.

Pounded with criticisms, declared unworkable and unconstitutional, attacked with amendments, in a whole afternoon's debate, the Smith bill yesterday was passed by the big vote of 80 to 20.

At the instance of the author, W. T. Smith of Marion, the bill was amended so that a popular vote to increase the tax rate for one to five years, the method of exceeding the limit, may be had only at regular elections, thus avoiding the expense of special elections.

POLYGAMY LAW PASSES.

After showing wonderful vitality, which kept it alive after it had been knocked in the head several times, the polygamy resolution was passed by the senate. Ohio is thus the first state to join in memorializing congress to take immediate action in passing a statute which will define and punish the crime of polygamy, as practiced in Utah, with the same distinctness as it defines and punishes the law of bigamy in the remainder of the Union.

TO LIMIT RECEIVERSHIP.

The term of a receivership shall be not more than 90 days under the terms of a new law introduced today by Senator Kellar, of Lucas county, who also embodies in his bill a provision that the receivers shall make a full accounting to the court every 30 days, and obtain permission from the same source before they can employ attorneys.

EXTENDS CIVIL SERVICE.

Without serious opposition the house of representatives enacted into law the Krause bill which places sanitary policemen under the civil service law. It will become effective as soon as Governor Harmon can sign it.

NEW STOCKWELL BILL.

Tiring of the treatment accorded his first bill for the direct election of United States senators and of his own many, but fruitless, efforts to relieve the committee on privileges and elections, which has the old bill firmly tied up, Senator Stockwell presented another bill almost exactly like his first one on this subject, and will make a strenuous fight to have it sent to a friendly committee.

Every effort will be made by him and his friends, who include the new president of the senate, Hugh Nichols, and Governor Harmon himself, to have the bill reported favorably at the earliest possible moment, so that it will be on the calendar as near as possible to the substitute bill recently offered by Mr. Dore, of Seneca county.

A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.—"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.

"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework."

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health."

"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women."

And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.

Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.

Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other unwholesome ingredients.

It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.

All druggists sell Cardui.

See yours about it.

SOMETHING DOING IN "Y." GYMNASIUM

Any one who thinks that things are dead in the Y gym and that there is nothing doing will do well to make a visit to the association some time in the near future and see for himself just what is going on in the gym. The past month of February has broken all records in the history of the association. Every night the gym was crowded to its full extent and every one who was in attendance had a fine time socially, as well as being helped a great deal physically. The following figures will speak for themselves:

Business men's class	166	1910
Senior class	164	51
Intermediate class	130
High school class	654	132
Grade school class	415	282
Baths taken	95	1425
Individual exercise	208	339
Volley ball	144	140
Basketball	1558	424

It was impossible to have an intermediate class; a new boys' cadet class meets Saturday afternoon.

These figures speak for themselves and will show the public something of the work that the association is doing for the men and boys of our city.

Several new classes were organized this year and are doing remarkably well.

The cadet class is one of the new classes this year, being composed of boys not over the age of 10 years, and they meet once a week, every Saturday afternoon at 1:30, when they are put through an exercise that is suitable for them, and are taught to swim. This is a fine class for the small boy.

Another new class is the Holophone class composed of members of the Holophone Company, which meets every Monday and Friday night, and is composed of a fine bunch of men.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team is cleaning up the best of them all over the state and is considered one of the best teams in the state, having a record that this club town of Newark ought to be proud of. The team plays New Philadelphia tomorrow night and any one who is fond of good, clean, fast basketball ought by all means come out and see this game, as it will be one of the fastest games ever seen on the local floor.

LADY "TENNIE" C. COOK
THREATENS TO AVENGE
INSULT WITH COWHIDE

Chicago Suffragist Leader Had Better Steer Clear of Former Licking County Woman.

Chicago, March 8.—"I will horse-whip Mrs. McCulloch, when I find her, for the insults she has heaped upon me."

Lady Tennessee Claflin Cook, suffragist of international fame, thus answered the statement of Mrs. Catharine Vaughn McCulloch, Chicago suffragist leader, in which the latter objected to connecting the titled woman's name with the Illinois Woman's Equal Suffrage association.

"I was not invited to go to Springfield with the delegation to lobby for the suffrage bill," stormed Lady Cook in her apartments in the Congress hotel, last night. "No, I was not invited, but I made it plain that I would not go. I am not a suffragist; I am not for votes for women—I am for the uplift of my sex."

"As to this woman, I never saw her in my life. Is she really and truly a suffragist? No, she is seeking publicity. She is seeking nothing for the cause," as she terms it. "The insult is too great. It will hurt me all over the world, especially in England."

Two hundred suffragists—a special train load—left for the state capital to ask the legislators for consideration in connection with the plea for the right to vote. Aiding the regular Women's Suffrage societies will go a band of college and university girls, headed by a daughter of Supreme Court Justice Carter.

Lady "Tennie" C. Claflin Cook is a product of Licking county, and was a daughter of Buckman Claflin, who came to Licking county from Pennsylvania about the year 1844, and settled in Homer, where he was postmaster. He was a man of native genius, and built a splendid large grist mill and was a lawyer in a small sort of way. The mother was a German woman and a religious enthusiast. To her were born seven children, all of whom were curiously named—Queen Victoria, Ulica Vanilla, Tennessee Celeste; a baby that died, Odessa Malvina, and two sons, respectively, Malden and Hebron. Victoria and Tennie C. grew to womanhood and their careers were the strangest and most inexplicable of any ever heard of in this country. Victoria became Lady Biduph Martin, and Tennie C. became Lady Frances Cook and Viscountess of Montserrat as well.

Blohm—Jack Dasnaw says he is going to settle down and look for a wife. "Stobbs—'Whose wife'?"

You don't have to be a census enumerator to be convinced that you shouldn't believe everything you hear.

The most brilliant people are not always the ones who cast reflections.

If flowers and fruit have sex, it stands to reason that a peach is always feminine.

Too many men labor under the delusion that red liquor is an antidote for the blues.

Nell—He said I was nice enough to eat." Belle—You're safe, he's a vegetarian."

HALE'S PLACE AS LEADER VACANT

Numerous Surmises as to Who Will Be Head of the Senate.

VARIOUS NAMES SUGGESTED.

Senator Lodge is Active and Pronounced Aspirant, and It May Be That He Will Assume Control—Cummins of Iowa Likely to Be the Leader of the Insurgent Forces.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 8.—[Special.]—"What are we going to do without Hale?" is a question that was frequently asked during the last session of congress.

And now that Eugene Hale is no longer a senator people are asking is going to be the senate leader? Who is going to scold the senate and chide the senators? Who is going to storm and threaten on some occasions and cajole on others? Who will become the great apostle of peace in trying times such as the senate often has experienced?

There is no answer to all of these questions, and I did not expect one. I have heard them many times repeated since it was known that Hale was not to be a senator. I have heard many names suggested and one after another rejected with a shake of the head. But I have never worked up any great degree of alarm over the situation. The senate existed before Hale was a member and passed through some very trying times. Perhaps it will be able to get along in the future.

A Different Senate.

No doubt there will be a crop of candidates for the places made vacant by the retirement of Hale and Aldrich. The most active and pronounced aspirant will be Senator Lodge. No one chooses a leader of the majority party in the senate unless it may be assumed that the man who presides over the senatorial caucus is such. The leaders are self chosen.

"He declared himself a leader just as senators now declare themselves leaders," commented the late Senator Stewart, speaking of an incident in the senate during the middle sixties in which Grimes of Iowa took a prominent part.

Unless I am mistaken Senator Lodge will become such a leader, and as the senate now stands he will get away with it, so far as one faction of his party is concerned.

The Man From Iowa.

But there is a new element in the Republican party. Call them what you will—progressives, insurgents or anything else—it will be recollected that they made history in politics in the Sixty-first congress. They will be more numerous in the senate in the Sixty-second congress, and there will be fewer leaders among them. Beveridge will not be there, and La Follette has not the physical strength for the task.

And so the commanding personality that brought him forcibly to the front during the Sixty-first congress will make Cummins the leader of that band of progressive Republicans who will have much to do with shaping legislation in the new congress. The standing of Senator Cummins with the regulars of his party has improved, and it might not be strange to see an Iowa senator again the senate leader. But it will not be like the days of Allison, for Cummins is a strong positive force.

When Cummins was elected to the senate Colonel Pete Hepburn remarked: "That is the culmination of fifteen years' persistent struggle for control in Iowa." That alone shows that Cummins is no ordinary person.

The Expected Happened.

It is not always the unexpected that happens in the United States senate. Once in awhile the expected comes bobbing along.

Thus it was in the crowded hours of the last senate that Senator Hepburn made his annual fight against the forestry service and the forestry system in general. He has been in the senate eight years. There have been eight agricultural bills; he has made eight annual fights.

Former Congressman Grosvenor of Ohio used to make an annual fight on the civil service. Colonel Pete Hepburn used to make a biennial fight on the rules of the house and another on the river and harbor bill. These men rank with Hepburn as "old faithfuls" in making the expected happen.

A Hit Here and There.

The speech which Senator McCumber made against reciprocity and in favor of the farmers had a hit here and there at the press and the magazines, blaming them for the losses suffered by Republicans in the last election and charging them with misrepresenting what was done in regard to the tariff.

Further along he spoke of the enormous profits people driven from the farms to the cities had to make in order to do business.

"And for advertising," interjected Senator Smoot.

"And the immense sums paid out for advertising," assented McCumber.

Several times there have been intimations that the high cost of living was due in quite a large degree to the cost of advertising, especially by those who have been trying to increase second class postage rates.

WAR PREPARATIONS

ing to Japan against forming closer relations with Mexico in order to strike at this country from the south, was one phase of the situation which develops today.

In defiance of the Monroe doctrine, Japan, it is alleged, has been endeavoring to obtain a naval station on the west coast of Mexico, where hundreds of thousands of Japanese have formed colonies. Most of them are men who served in the Japanese army during the war with Russia.

The Diaz government has shown a disposition to befriend the Japanese and has encouraged their colonization. Military experts today pointed out the danger to the United States in this movement, as Mexico with its mild climate most of the year is admirably suited for a base of operations against the United States.

This may partially explain the concentration of the Pacific fleet at San Diego and the mobilization of troops from western states at Los Angeles. So far as the Imperial Valley dam is concerned the cavalry now patrolling the border would afford ample protection to the entire work.

The Japanese war party declares that the mikado must strike before the Panama canal is completed, or not at all and the United States, it is said, must be prepared to avert any impending movement from Mexico.

The hasty return of Secretary of State Knox from Palm Beach, Fla., where he went Saturday night with his family was predicted today. In his absence, Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson is suffering painful embarrassment. Evasive replies, or none at all, are given to all questions of newspaper men.

It was learned today that a report upon the Mexican situation, obtained by special agents of the government, outside the regular diplomatic service was one cause for the hasty movement of troops. It is a fact that this report reached the state department Monday, and within a few hours orders amounting to preparations for war were issued.

Denver, Colo., March 8.—Preparations were completed today for the evacuation of Fort D. A. Russell at Cheyenne, Wyo., by its entire garrison. This post will contribute 2500 men of the 20th to be mobilized along the Mexican border. More than 300 coaches will be required to move them.

While definite orders have not been issued, it is expected that Company M engineering corps will leave for the south to fight the Eleventh infantry tomorrow. Ninth cavalry Friday and the Fourth artillery on Saturday.

The Fifteenth infantry from Ft. Douglas, Utah, will pass through Pueblo tonight or tomorrow, traveling in three special trains.

While no troops have been ordered to leave Fort Logan, N. D., instructions have been received to prepare recruits for filling out the mobilizing regiments which will in all probability result in taking nearly all the infantrymen at Logan. All leaves of absence for officers of the department of Colorado have been recalled and all officers have been ordered to rejoin their regiments.

LONDON, MARCH 8.—There are persistent reports today that representations were made by the British foreign office to the American state department that unless British interests were protected in the Mexican revolution, England might take a hand in the trouble.

It is considered significant by press and public alike that the order mobilizing the United States army in Texas occasioned no surprise in official circles here.

"We have not expected at any time that we would have to interfere," said one of the statesmen of Downing street today, "because we were confident that the United States would effectually handle the situation."

The United States, however, allowed dilatory tactics in the opinion of many English diplomats, which finally led to the hint of action on England's part. How strong this intimation was there is no way of finding out now. According to one official of the foreign office, Ambassador Bryce merely took the matter up informally with the state department. English opinion generally suspects that the movement marks the beginning of the absorption of Mexico by the United States. The "Post" says that in the American army invades Mexico, it is hardly likely that it will be within the government's power to limit the consequences.

The "Globe" says that the "massing of troops on the Mexican frontier is a sign of possible interference which cannot be disregarded. The Mexican political situation is such that outside dangers will probably only intensify internal dissensions."

If the United States should even go to the extent of annexing Mexico there would be little objection raised in this country, judged from the talk heard on the streets but it is expected that such action would bring a vigorous protest from Germany.

One Bottle of Rheuma Cured Woman Who Could Not Walk.

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true, but in it is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days.

Mrs. Gertrude Kezel, Smithfield, Pa., wrote on Feb. 14, 1910: "I had rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and I can again walk as well."

Evans' Drug Store will sell any reader of the Advocate a bottle of Rheuma for 50 cents and guarantee it to cure any case of any kind of rheumatism or money back.

Gratifying relief comes in a day because Rheuma acts at once on the kidneys, stomach, liver and blood, and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous uric acid at once.

COME FROM NORMANDY TO SEE UNVEILING OF R. D. OWEN STATUE IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Mrs. Margaret Dale Owen Clarke with her husband, Harry Gordon Clarke, came to Indianapolis from Rouen, Normandy, France, to attend the unveiling of the Robert Dale Owen bust.

While no troops have been ordered to leave Fort Logan, N. D., instructions have been received to prepare recruits for filling out the mobilizing regiments which will in all probability result in taking nearly all the infantrymen at Logan. All leaves of absence for officers of the department of Colorado have been recalled and all officers have been ordered to rejoin their regiments.

LONDON, MARCH 8.—There are persistent reports today that representations were made by the British foreign office to the American state department that unless British interests were protected in the Mexican revolution, England might take a hand in the trouble.

It is considered significant by press and public alike that the order mobilizing the United States army in Texas occasioned no surprise in official circles here.

"We have not expected at any time that we would have to interfere," said one of the statesmen of Downing street today, "because we were confident that the United States would effectually handle the situation."

The United States, however, allowed dilatory tactics in the opinion of many English diplomats, which finally led to the hint of action on England's part. How strong this intimation was there is no way of finding out now. According to one official of the foreign office, Ambassador Bryce merely took the matter up informally with the state department. English opinion generally suspects that the movement marks the beginning of the absorption of Mexico by the United States. The "Post" says that in the American army invades Mexico, it is hardly likely that it will be within the government's power to limit the consequences.

The "Globe" says that the "massing of troops on the Mexican frontier is a sign of possible interference which cannot be disregarded. The Mexican political situation is such that outside dangers will probably only intensify internal dissensions."

If the United States should even go to the extent of annexing Mexico there would be little objection raised in this country, judged from the talk heard on the streets but it is expected that such action would bring a vigorous protest from Germany.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

GRADE TEACHERS ASK FOR INCREASE OF 25 PER CENT

Board of Education Held a Regular Meeting Tuesday Evening. Budget of Bills Allowed.

The Board of Education met in regular session Tuesday evening, with the following members responding to roll: Kibler, Beggs, Conrad and Kellger. A communication was read from the grade teachers addressed to the board, asking for a 25 percent increase in the present salaries received by them. The petition was referred to the committee on teachers and salaries.

The usual budget of small bills was allowed and the board decided to fix the time for the spring vacation for the schools to extend over a week beginning March 24 and ending April 3. The building committee reported on the question of the installation of Edison batteries to operate the call bell and clock system in the high school. The committee was continued and invested with power to install the batteries.

The committee on teachers and salaries notified the board that Mr. W. J. Livingston would not act as director of athletics for the schools and that a sum of $200 a summer was to be given him. Mr. Livingston is the physical director of the Y. M. C. A. and his work elsewhere has been commensurate with so much of the school athletics that he is willing to take over the supervision of the school work as well as to him in his particular work. The compensation is purely honorary.

Superintendent Simkins and Mr. Handle both reported that sundry supplies were needed in various schools and the matter was referred to the committee on supplies with power to act. The superintendent also reported that the large lawn fronting the Woodside building was in bad condition and that lawn seed was needed at once. The board referred the matter to Mr. Beggs, the member in charge, with power to act, this matter closing up the business of the evening.

A report of the various funds shows the following:
Tuition fund, overdrawn, $1477.00
Balance in contingent fund $1215.80
Balance in building fund, $1113.57
Balance in sinking fund, $1436.25
Balance in treasury, $449.77
The board has not yet received its share of the settlement from the December taxes.

How a Meaning Changes.

"Cheat" is a word that now has a very ugly sound. To cheat a man is to defraud him. Originally the word conveyed no such meaning. The old word "escheat" referred to the dues that fell to the crown. It came from the French eschoir (Latin, excadere). The modern meaning that attaches to the word tells a sad tale of the extortion and greed that must have been practiced in collecting the dues.

The seventeen-year locusts are due this year, according to the observations of expert entomologists. Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, shortly will send out a bulletin to farmers telling them how to cope with the invasion. In Japan years ago the locusts made much trouble for the farmers. They arrived in such numbers as to resemble a snow storm. The sky was darkened and the insects laid waste many acres of growing crops.
